Narrative

I, Officer K. Mortensen #5290, working Unit 2C15 in a marked black and white vehicle assisted 2S20, Sergeant M. Richens #6056 at 7053 Stearns Street regarding an Assault with a Deadly Weapon report call.

Upon arrival, I talked with a neighbor located at [REDACTED], who [REDACTED] identified as a friend who helped him clean the room where the incident had occurred. I talked with [REDACTED] who stated she has known both Dana and [REDACTED] for approximately 12 yrs and she has a very close relationship with both.

[REDACTED] stated she arrived home on 03/03/14 at approximately 1530 hrs, and was told by a neighbor that Dana was in the hospital. She called [REDACTED], she refers to him as "[REDACTED]" and then drove directly to St. Mary's Hospital and arrived there at approximately 1630 hrs. [REDACTED] left the hospital and drove home at about 2030 hrs.

The next morning [REDACTED] could not remember if she called [REDACTED] or if he called her. She asked him if he needed anything and he asked her if she could go with him to walk the dog. She agreed and they walked to the park with the dog. After the walk, she asked [REDACTED] if he needed help with anything else and he asked her if she would help him clean the room where the incident happened and she agreed.

[REDACTED] stated that she had been an ER nurse for 25 years and that the sight of blood does not bother her. [REDACTED] said she was in the house and saw that the door to the Yoga room was closed. She said this was normal in order to keep the dog out of the room. She entered the room and saw that there was a blue yoga mat and a white towel on the ground. She believes there was a couple drops of blood on the yoga mat and stated that she wasn't paying attention to the towel, so she does not remember if there was any on it.

LONG BEACH POLICE DEPARTMENTNarrative

I asked how much blood was on the ground and she stated that she was not paying attention to it and just helped clean it. I asked if the blood was already dry and she stated that it was. [REDACTED] said that she stayed with [REDACTED] the entire time, and she believes that he made a concentrate of warm water, simple green and bleach. He placed this into a bucket and she thinks she used a sponge to clean it up the blood. [REDACTED] said that [REDACTED] helped and he used a brush of some kind.

I again asked her how much blood was on the ground and asked her to show me using her hands, and she stated that she really couldn't say. After cleaning the blood she brought the trash cans to the front of the backyard and [REDACTED] threw the towel and yoga mat away.

I asked her if anything seemed out of the ordinary in the room and she stated that she has been in that room several times and nothing looked out of place. I asked her to describe the relationship between the two and she stated, "Total love and devotion."

I did not ask any further questions.
